Steam Summer Sale 2015 Expected by May 26th This Year

2 months ago · by CultureMob · 3 min read

Most PC gamers know that Steam is the way to go when you wish to find the best deals on games.

The Steam Summer Sale 2015 is nearly here and this year it is going to take place on May 26, according to a rumor found in the community forums.

As the summer has already begun, gamers who are eager to know more about Steam sales started posting multiple information they have gathered from different sources. One of the gaming community forum members says that it could be expected before the end of May this year. In 2014, the sale kicked off precisely on June 1st and this date isn't far from the expected one. Another user points that based on Paypal vendor e-mails and game developer statements, it would kick off on May 26, without a doubt.

As this is purely a rumor suggested by an unidentified rumor, we would suggest that you take it with a pinch of salt. Even though, it doesn't have a solid ground, it looks very close to reality. Steam has always held their discount sales in the month of May and June every year. Sometimes, they have even commenced it as early as April fourth week but this year; it will probably be next month.

Expected Game Titles

Before you get ready for Steam Summer Sale 2015, it is advisable to start adding your favorite titles to the wish list. When you do so, you will receive automatic updates from the distribution platform. It is much easier to track those titles and buy them as soon as they are available for $10 or even lesser. A lot of good titles that got launched last year are expected to be on huge discounts.

The most important ones in the list include Call of Duty Advanced Warfare, Watch Dogs, Assassin's Creed Unity, and Far Cry 4. While these are AAA titles, it is given that most indie games will be available below the $20 mark. You can easily buy a dozen $5 games within punching a hole in your wallet.
