This extravagantly stunning piece is called "Neun Blanc" which essentially means that it's a white-themed build. The creator lakai is a 35-year-old case modder hailing from Los Angeles, USA. If you looked the pictures first, you probably would have guessed that this was done by some top case modder who has done this a hundred times. With three radiators, you should be expecting ultra-cool operating temperatures or perhaps super-high overlocks! The attention to detail and cleanness of the build definitely makes it very hard to guess that this was done by a first-time modder. If that is the case, then there should be some even more amazing ones in store for us in the future.
