Welcome to the subreddit dedicated to the discussion of the story being told by user /u/_9MOTHER9HORSE9EYES9.

What is the story, you ask?

From what we've seen so far, the author is telling a story (or possibly an alternate history) about possible extraterrestrial or demonic technologies and phenomena resulting from extended use of the psychedelic drug LSD and how it has affected world events since World War II.

There are also miscellaneous posts about the author's experience living with a foster mother figure they dubbed "Mother Horse Eyes".

Where can I read the story?

If you want to read the story so far, we have a Narrative page on our wiki with all of the posts made by the author. These are posted verbatim (unless otherwise noted) from /u/_9MOTHER9HORSE9EYES9 in the order they were submitted. This is the best place to start.

Who is /u/_9MOTHER9HORSE9EYES9?

The author, /u/_9MOTHER9HORSE9EYES9, created their account on 04/21/2016 and has posted nearly every day since then.

Okay, I've read the narrative. What next?

After reading the narrative, we also are working on a timeline listing the dates of events mentioned by the author. The timeline also has dates not explicitly listed by the author, but are confirmed by actual historical events (such as the date of the discovery of LSD or the date that the Soviets detonated Tsar Bomba). The timeline is very much still a work-in-progress, so bear in mind while we get it up to par.

How can I help?

Jesus, dude just had to post today's narrative in my comment. Now I'm hooked and unlikely to sleep all night. Great job!

I just found out about this and got caught up, I feel the same.
I'd have been fine with everything except for 'Mother Horse Eyes', that has screwed me over good.

Taken at face value (being the events really happened) this is a brilliant way to disseminate classified information. Random comments strewn throughout reddit? Awesome! And way entertaining. If this is a viral marketing scheme for something it's a cool way to do it...

Seems to me like a modern Edgar Allen Poe. Poe's history was pretty self-destructive as well. So, Poe back from the grave?

It's a bit destructive for a viral marketing scheme unless it's to sell his book. A company wouldn't risk being accused of advertising LSD

OK. So people understand that these narrative posts are tied to the posts they show up in right? The stories are being written daily to coincide with the post they are in. I.e. he commented today's a horrifying nazi story in a Holocaust joke. He commented the bird one in a parrot related TIL thread, etc....

Yes, it's been discussed in a few threads.
Enjoy the Narrative.... I'm sure your jaw will drop at parts of it.

So, new guy here. Anyway great job on correlating all this, I have not had the time to read every post, so I have a question that may have been addressed already. I apologise in advance if this is a waste of anyone's time.
The narrative breaks down at the Artigas base reference, given that the Artigas base was in the Antarctic, but the CIA project coldfeet base was in the Arctic.
Once again my apologies for wasting anyone's time if this is already resolved.

I don't think anyone has addressed this yet. I didn't know that 'coldfeet' was a real project.
The Author (or one of his/her characters) wrote a message to the sub saying that the narrative will contain deliberate historical inaccuracies. Also that the stories represent things that actually happened along with events that may have happened, possible pasts. It also contains possible futures - so far they have been pretty grim.
Further, we may also consider the case that the CIA did have a southern hemisphere version of 'cold feet' - they're not exactly known for their full disclosure.

Thank you for taking time to respond. The sub itself has so much information and sub-subs it will take me some time to read it. But read it I shall!
Is there a specific forum for posting about such things as mentioned above, or is it considered "story breaking" and not part of the game as it were? I would not want to spoil it for anyone.

I think you are doing the right thing in the right place, lot's of people are trying to figure out what this story is really about and it's still quite new, so not many rules are in place at present.
From what I've read so far, on this sub at least, participation and speculation are encouraged. Also fitting story elements to historical facts is common.

Do you guys think this could be viral marketing for something? Maybe I'm just cynical...

If it's marketing LSD, not sure this is the right approach.

Man this is some complete horseshit. I took a tab of LSD a few hours ago, listened to some music etc. Then I decide to check reddit and somehow I end up here.
I don't even know man

I am surprised that Alfred Matthew Hubbard hasn't been mentioned. I suspect that he was put into the field, by the CIA, to deflect the rising protests against the Eisenhower style military-industrial government and later, the anti-Vietnam War movement and the push for racial equality movement by pushing the angry young into drugs.

Also, you see complex tunnels created in the earth. These have been termed "ant farms". In undersea interfaces, you get chitinous cruciform organisms.
I am still in the process of reading the entire narrative. I am mostly likely just grasping at straws, but the cruciforms and tunnels made me think back to Hyperion by Dan Simmons. In this book there are cruciforms that line the tunnels/labyrinths of certain planets.
