

A Chess Novice Challenged Magnus Carlsen. He Had One Month to Train.

Speed learner Max Deusch is testing the limits of self-improvement. Next up: the world's greatest chess player

By Ben Cohen

Updated Nov. 17, 2017 10:56 a.m. ET

HAMBURG, Germany—Max Deusch went through a month of training before he traveled across the ocean, sat down in a regal hotel suite at the appointed hour and waited for the arrival of the world's greatest chess player.

TO READ THE FULL STORY

SUBSCRIBE SIGN IN

