

1.4 Alpha 15
Copyright
All Right

Matthew G

@mjb59

Former biologist.

Blog: mjb59

Opinions not tho

📍 Oakland, CA

🔗 mjb59.dream

📅 Inscrit en déc

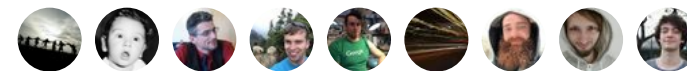

Matthew Garrett @mjb59

Suivre

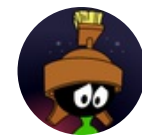

Language gatekeepers: PHP's design flaws have led to numerous security vulnerabilities which is why you should laugh at PHP developers
C: hold my beer

12:17 - 16 avr. 2018

23 Retweets 71 J'aime

4 23 71

Matthew Garrett @mjb59 · 1 h

Language gatekeepers: No professional developer would ever use an insecure language like PHP in a critical context
Professional developer: (writes giant pile of mission critical code in bash)

6 24 86

Morning Song @TheMorningSongs · 1 h

En réponse à @mjb59

Historians generally believe that the Egyptian New Kingdom's IT security was devastated by The C Peoples.

5

igor, the blessed algorithm @hirojin · 2 h

En réponse à @mjb59

i once had a great idea for a software insurance company:

we'll insure literally anything you make, if you can prove that no line of c is involved in your stack.

1 4

Saleem Rashid @spudowiar · 1 h

"CVE-2018-XXXX: RCE due to entire software stack being written in Bash"

1 2

igor, the blessed algorithm @hirojin · 1 h

bash is written in c, so we can't have bash

