My god... my god... Sean there are reports from the brother that she chose to go back to teaching b/c she loved children... can you verify? [not that it matters in the slightest but... getting facts straight is needed in today's hostile-to-media environment]

I'm saddened by this. IPF killed my otherwise healthy uncle in 5 days from first admission, a year ago last November. I hope for a better outcome here.

You're right: it doesn't matter at all why she returned to teaching. Could be a combination of loving kids & trying to help her own family out of a horrible situation. Either way, this is terrible tragedy. I will donate now because I am blessed to have med. coverage for my chemo.

My favorite part about this is imagining @ccwolf scrolling through twitter for hours looking for a way a discredit something about the family of an innocent victim of gun violence. That's how he spent his evening. Dunking on the bereaved. #YaGotEmChrisWoolf!!
