Some say the VRBPAC, FDA, ACIP & CDC disagree b/c of scientific judgment; that narrative ignores that the drum beat began in the executive branch.

The entire saga was pushed by political forces; including the meetings & votes.

That's dangerous...

The CDC director, a political appointee, siding with the President, & his pre-ordained plan, against the advice of the ACIP advisors, with 0 RCTs measuring clinical outcomes & no idea of adverse events is not "doing one's job" it is politics > science, precisely what we feared 📖

Replying to @VPrasadMDMPH

Absolutely. It would have been much better for the Biden admin to simply ask the FDA/CDC to issue rulings on boosters, not to first promise boosters,
