Simple test of the pure will to win backyard is not a test of speed or strength.

it is a simple test of the pure will to win.

4.166667 miles in under an hour.

it is not that hard.

keep stepping up to the line until you are the only one.

that is hard.

unimaginably hard.

because there are 34 others who have come with the same dream.

35 champions will step to the line saturday morning.

but only one will walk away at the finish.

the champion of champions.
