That sucks, but at least the hamster still works.

My pc no longer works..

Well duh... how do you expect your computer to work if its hamster wheel has stopped?

He did all his trades via the hamster wheel and walking through tunnels and outperformed the worlds best traders according to the news.

RIP Mr. Goxx from Goxx Capital. :(OP: Also RIP to your PC! But at least you got your cute hamster alive and well.

This is cracking me up so hard.

Once my neighbors lost their hamster. Five days later someone knocked on my door asking if I lost a hamster, they found one in the middle of the road a quarter mile down the street and were going house to house asking. I like thinking of the adventure that little guy had in those five days.

An other time a rodent was stuck in our furnace. I didn't want to just turn it on and torch the thing so we asked our neighbor for help getting it out. About 30 minutes into the extraction process he casually mentions their hamster is missing again. Yup. It was the hamster in the furnace.

Haha that's awesome , friends growing up had a hamster it got loose and somehow lived in the walls for a week until it finally came out. At night you could hear it moving in the walls.
