All information provided is believed to be accurate but is not guaranteed.

Notes:

¹ Network support indicates built-in ethernet and/or wireless networking. Alternatively, many devices may be operated on the network using an external JetDirect print server. Not all network configurations are supported. Please refer to the HPLIP FAQs for more information.

² USB mass storage only. You may mount the photocard as a storage drive over USB only. Refer to your distribution's documentation for setup and usage instructions.

³ Scan supported means that PC initiated scan using a SANE compatible software application is supported over parallel, USB, or network (depending on I/O connection). Information on digital sending products is covered in note 9, below.

⁶ Copy supported means that PC initiated copying is supported using hp-makecopies.

⁸ ("Yes") A downloadable driver plug-in is Yes for printing support. ("Optional") A downloadable driver plug-in is optional for printing support and may increase the speed, quality, or other aspect of printed output. ("No" or "None") A driver plug-in is not Yes nor available. Driver plug-ins are released under a proprietary (non-open) license and are not part of the HPLIP tarball release. For more information, please refer to this KB article (/hp-linux-imaging-and-printing/binary_plugin.html)

⁹ For a definition of Support Levels, please refer to this KB article. (</hp-linux-imaging-and-printing/KnowledgeBase/Different%20Support%20Level.html>)

¹⁰ The "Summary of Available Features in Various Linux Distributions" table lists available features for distros that are supported by the HPLIP automatic tarball installer. Distros that are not listed will require a manual install procedure (See this page (</hp-linux-imaging-and-printing/install/manual/index.html>) for more information).

¹²"Recommended" means that the printer is fully supported in HPLIP and is recommended for use on your Linux system. For information of what "fully supported" means, see this KB article. (</hp-linux-imaging-and-printing/KnowledgeBase/Different%20Support%20Level.html>)
