How do they replace the ERA's after tank hit a couple times? They must've been captured a fair amount of Relikt ERA's, otherwise Ukrainians don't have this type of ERA.

Yes I think they took the ERA's from other captured tanks that are not repairable.

I just wonder how can they tell whether it is friendly or hostile from far away, especially from the Stugna-P anti-tank missile screen. They are not even painted in the same pattern.
