

Shivan Kaul Sahib @shivan_kaul

Follow

This is shocking. DuckDuckGo has a search deal with Microsoft which prevents them from blocking MS trackers. And they can't talk about it!

This is why privacy products that are beholden to giant corporations can never deliver true privacy; the business model just doesn't work.

4:24 PM - 23 May 2022

1,170 Retweets 3,061 Likes

72 1.2K 3.1K

Arthur Edelstein @arthuredelstein · 19h

Replying to @shivan_kaul

A number of browsers leave "holes" in their tracker blocking. See the "tracker content blocking" section of privacytests.org/private.html and privacytests.org/android.html

It's interesting to see how those holes match up with search deals.

Shivan Ka

@shivan_kaul

Privacy engineer
browser, co-chai
Group @inretaf groups @ietf

Canada

shivankaul.co

Joined Nov

