Russia demands that the world 'demilitarize' the internet and accuses the West of 'cyber-totalitarianism'

Matthew Loh

Permanent Representative of the Russian Federation to the UN, Ambassador Vassily Nebenzia tore into the West, accusing it of controlling information online.

KEEP READING