I love how smart these AI technologies are. They understand that "bigger" for cities can be ambiguous, refer to either the population or the area. It's also great that it's showing the sources in the upper corner, and displaying the basic facts.

Small minus on consistency and correctness, but other than that, really a great answer.

@vrandecic good catch! My guess is that this is an issue with the smaller/cheaper model used to serve this. Flash makes a similar mistake in the Gemini app, but Pro doesn't.

@vrandecic It truly is a marvel of engineering and extremely useful to boot, except maybe in the extreme edge case when you want correct information.
