ciblant des domaines stratégiques comme les infrastructures digitales, l'intelligence artificielle, la data, la cybersécurité ou encore le numérique responsable. Orange promet notamment de s'appuyer sur "la puissance de ses infrastructures télécoms" pour permettre aux startups de proposer des solutions immédiatement exploitables à grande échelle. Au-delà du simple partenariat, le dispositif ouvre un accès direct aux réseaux, plateformes et bases clients d'Orange dans de nombreux pays, offrant ainsi de nouveaux terrains d'expérimentation. L'opérateur évoque également un levier pour développer des cas d'usage autour de l'IA "dans une approche responsable fondée sur la confiance, la transparence et une vision long terme".
