Help us with your consent

We and our up to 173 partners collect and process personal data (such as IP addresses, privacy settings, cookies, advertising IDs or device identifiers) to improve and finance our website. Processing may also take place outside the EU, where there may not be a comparable level of data protection. In this case, local authorities may process the transferred data. You can find further information on the places of processing here. Processing is carried out for the following purposes:

- ✓ Store and/or access information on a device
- ✓ Personalised advertising and content, advertising and content measurement, audience research and services development

Under Settings you will find a detailed overview of which partners process data for which purposes and which cookies are set. You have the option of configuring details there. Some of your data is processed on the basis of legitimate interest, while others require your consent. You can use the Privacy Manager link in the footer of each page to change all settings relating to this offer and revoke your consent with effect for the future.
